For the past eleven years, ICCHS has provided a safe haven for the unwanted and abandoned animals from our local communities. In January we relocated to a larger facility that provides many new benefits to it's inhabitants.

The new location is renovated as an efficient, comfortable, and attractive home for the nearly 200 animals currently calling it home.

We are proud to put our name on this building, and we believe you should be, too. Please consider making a contribution today. Surveys show our ICCHS supporters choose to do business with companies that support ICCHS. Reach hundreds of area residents who visit our facility each year by prominently displaying your business support.

OUR NEW FACILITY WILL ALLOW:

- A spacious, healthier environment that is designed by an animal facilities architect to maximize efficient use of staff and resources
- Double the available space of our old location, plus a large separate storage building
- A more efficient building, allowing more time for staff and volunteers to work with the animals
- New isolation and quarantine areas for both cats and dogs, with a separate entrance to prevent any spread of disease
- Dedicated exam, surgery, and recovery areas
- Areas for more one-on-one work with animals
- Available spaces for meeting, education, and community outreach programs
